

Teenage Kicks

Nostalgia plays a big part in collecting classic and vintage motorcycles, and there are plenty of bikes to bring back happy memories in the Charterhouse specialist auction of nearly 150 motorcycles being held at the Haynes Motor Museum on Thursday 13th March.

“Many bike are bought out of nostalgia, what you have when you were younger, what your friends, dad, uncle or aunt had, and of course, what you couldn’t afford!” commented Richard Bromell. “For me, it is the 1971 Gilera trail bike in the auction which brings back memories as my best friend had one, a hand-me-down from his big brother, of which I was very jealous of!”

The 1971 Gilera trail bike £3,500-4,000 which brings back teenage memories for Richard in the Charterhouse auction of classic motorcycles.

Viewing for the auction, at the Haynes Motor Museum, Sparkford, is on Wednesday 12th March and on the auction day. All the lots, with live internet bidding, is also available on charterhouse-auction.com

Charterhouse is now accepting entries for their auction of classic & vintage cars, at Haynes, on 27th March.
